25X1

On the morning of 25 July 1953, a Soviet high-wing monoplane landed at Mahlwinkel airfield and, after 20 minutes, took off heading east. The farmers who were allowed to harvest hay on the landing field had to complete this work by 27 July. The timber in the clearing north of the west end of the field has not yet been shipped away. As of 30 July 1953 no Soviets were observed at the field.
